Catalog No. 28

WE here at Sherman Orchid Gardens specialize in Cymbidium and Cypripedium Orchids which are now considered by many as the most popular orchids; not only because of their freshness and charm, as well as their long-lasting qualities, but also because of the demand by the discriminating flower-lovers for these newer and beautiful orchids. Florists find both Cymbidiums and Cypripediums excellent for the same reasons, plus the ease of handling and shipping.

Our stock of top florist and show quality Cymbidiums and Cypripediums are well known to those who have visited the Nursery, and many fine exhibition and stud varieties are available for the discriminating Orchid fancier and for the hybridizer. Among these are the varieties which have won the highest honors wherever fine orchids have been exhibited, and whose progeny are setting new standards and winning new honors today. Many of these world famous plants can be seen here in bloom during the flowering season.

We invite your inquiry for specific varieties or types, either for exhibition or stud varieties; we will also be glad to suggest individual plants or groups in any requested price range.

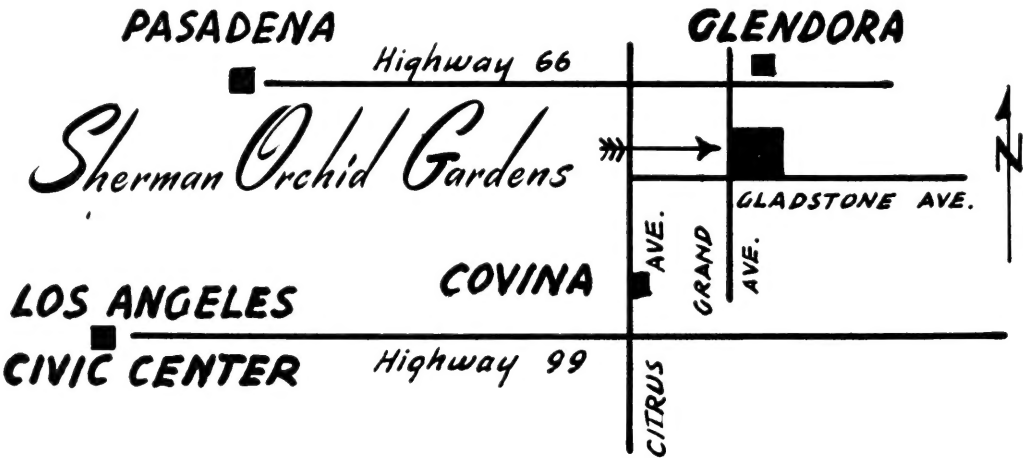

In every show in which we have participated, we have won top awards, including two American Orchid Society Silver Trophies. Many individual awards have also been received by our Cymbidium and Cypripedium plants, among which are three Gold Awards from the Orchid Society of Southern California and the Cymbidium Society.

We ship plants throughout the world at all times of the year. Every order, small or large, is promptly handled and expertly packed—to assure your complete satisfaction. Foreign shipments and regulations are competently handled.

YOU MAY ORDER BY MAIL OR MAKE YOUR SELECTION AT THE NURSERY—YOUR ORDER WILL RECEIVE OUR PERSONAL ATTENTION.

When in the Los Angeles area you are invited to come in and visit the Nursery. We are approximately 20-25 minutes drive east of Pasadena.

WE ARE OPEN EVERY DAY—INCLUDING SUNDAY.

STARLIGHT MAJESTIC A.M.-A.O.S.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we present this catalog, (No. 28), which includes many of the finest hybrid Cymbidium and Cypripedium orchids in existence, along with a few rare and beautiful species.

Our stock consists of the highest quality and offers one of the largest selections. With up-to-date and modern facilities, we continually enjoy with pride the compliments of our visitors and customers on our nursery and staff. The many repeat orders are further evidence of this position which we so highly prize.

Throughout the listing, many will recognize plants of world renown; while other plants of equal value will be unfamiliar. This is quite understandable, for there are many other very fine things without this reputation.

For the amateur, private, or commercial grower, groups of plants and propagations will also be found, covering every choice and need—whether for inexpensive types for a bit of color or plant sales, to the best available stock for breeding and exhibition purpose.

THE MOST POPULAR ORCHID

During the past few years Cymbidium Orchids have been rapidly growing in popularity, not only as a corsage item much in demand by florists throughout the world and by garden lovers here in Southern California and elsewhere—but also by growers of fine flowers everywhere. These attractive plants bloom during the winter and early spring months when other flowers are at a minimum and their long lasting qualities are unexcelled. Coming in a wide range of colors including white, pink, rose, ivory, yellow, bronze and many shades of chartreuse and green and with their upright or arching spikes carrying up to twenty or even thirty or more large flowers on a stem, these hardy orchids are winning prizes and new friends daily. For the commercial flower grower the winter through spring blooming period, plus high flower production, wide color range and extreme long lasting characteristics makes Cymbidiums most attractive for either large or small scale production.

CYMBIDIUMS ARE EASY TO GROW

Have you ever grown Fuchsias, Tuberous Begonias, Camellias or Azaleas? . . . Then you can grow Cymbidiums. Yes, it's true, once their simple requirements are understood Cymbidiums are indeed easy to grow and they require no special facilities or skill in their culture. A considerable number of early plantings of these beautiful orchids here in Southern California were under oak trees, and many of these original plants with no special care grew to enormous size, with individual plants often producing several hundred flowers each season.

WHERE TO GROW THEM

The average lath house makes a good growing location as well as the area under trees which admit plenty of light. Cymbidiums cannot stand full sun, however, they must have lots of light (from 1200 to 3000 ft. candles) in order to flower freely. They can of course be grown in a glasshouse where a cool night temperature is very satisfactory. The plants themselves may be grown in pots or in prepared beds in the ground. Either method is satisfactory and of course plants in beds require less attention in regard to watering. The beds should have good drainage and made with lots of redwood shavings, fibre, or similar material. An excellent compost, such as we use, (See Supplies, Item 420) is as follows:

- 4 parts redwood shavings
- 1 part peat moss
- 1 part sandy silt or loam

Add 4 oz. of Gaviota Orchid fertilizer per 2½ cu. ft. of the above compost.

Those who prefer to use leaf mold or garden compost or both in the potting media, may add 2 to 4 parts with the above suggested mixture. This will eliminate the necessity of fertilizing more than once a month or six weeks.

Pot grown plants benefit by repotting every two or three years.

WATERING

A safe method to follow in watering Cymbidiums is as follows: whenever plants are watered, give them a thorough soaking and do not water until the growing media is barely moist. Of course, growing plants require more water during the summer months and Cymbidiums are no exception, but the roots should not be kept constantly wet.

TEMPERATURES

Cymbidiums have demonstrated their ability to grow and thrive in many localities and under widely different conditions of heat and cold. During hot dry weather a little extra humidity can be provided by an occasional light sprinkling on the foliage. In the other direction, Cymbidiums will tolerate several degrees of frost, and in some sections of California have required no protection when grown under lath or trees, even in our very coldest years. In other areas, however, some protection may be required should the temperature drop below 28° F.

The following list is made up of flowered plants, which include a wide selection of types, colors, and season of bloom. These are priced on a per bulb basis. At the time of publication, we have several propagations of each, varying in size from large plants to smaller propagations of one and two bulbs each. There are, of course, only a few in the single bulb size.

Cat.		Price Per Bulb
No.
1—	ADELE SANDER (Alexanderi ‘Westonbirt’ F.C.C.-R.H.S. x St. Albans ‘Princess Beatrice’)	$30.00
	A lovely ivory yellow with just a hint of rose in the sepals, while the well-formed large lip is richly stippled with red. A large well formed flower of rich heavy texture on a tall spike.

FERTILIZING

We recommend regular feeding with a balanced fertilizer such as Gaviota Orchid Fertilizer. From October through February, feed once each month, then each ten days or two weeks the rest of the year. With potting composts containing moderately high quantities of garden loam, leaf mold, etc., feed as directed on container. (See Items 422-423.)

PESTS

Cymbidiums are not bothered by many pests and the usual precautions and corrective measures applied to other evergreen plants are usually satisfactory. (Item 423A.)

PRICES ARE REASONABLE

From the foregoing, it will readily be seen that these exotic Orchids are not difficult to grow, in fact, they require less actual attention than many varieties of plants commonly grown around the home or in the garden, and prices are reasonable. While it is true that the prize winning varieties, certain scarce types and proven plants used for breeding are more expensive, the great majority of Cymbidium plants are now available at Sherman Orchid Gardens at prices within the reach of everyone.

HOW TO BUY PLANTS

Mature plants may be selected at the Nursery in flower or we will be glad to recommend individual plants or groups of plants in various types and colors in price ranges to suit individual requirements, and no one should overlook the opportunity to acquire (at very nominal cost) prize winners of the future by acquiring a group of seedlings from the selection which we are now offering. The parents are the finest, the colors offer a complete range and the prices are most reasonable.

Rich deep yellow flowers of good form and heavy texture, lip banded dark red. Brilliant and impressive.

CYMBIDIUM BACK BULBS

We have unstarted back bulbs throughout the year. To those wishing to increase their stock at a minimum of cost, this method offers a real savings. Back bulbs are broken into three categories.

Group No. 1 are unlabelled back bulbs of cut flower stock, priced as follows:

Cat.
No.
213—Per bulb.....	.50 each (Min. 3 $1.50)
214—Per doz. bulbs.....	4.50
215—Per 100 bulbs.....	30.00

Group No. 2 are back bulbs of cut flower stock of better quality.

To allow for this low price, they are not labelled; however, they are segregated as to indicate three general color groups. These are priced as follows:

216—Per bulb	1.00 each (Min. 3 $3.00)
217—Per doz. bulbs.....	9.00
218—Per 100 bulbs.....	60.00

Group No. 3 constitutes all labeled back bulb stock, and is further broken into price groups, according to quality as follows:

219—A—Per bulb	2.50 Each (Min. 2 $5)
220— Per doz.	22.50
221— Per 100	150.00
222—B—Per Bulb	5.00 each
223— Per doz.	45.00
224— Per 100	300.00
225—C—Per Bulb	7.50 each
226— Per doz.	67.50
227— Per 100	450.00

D—Individually priced, catalogue items.

All back bulb stock in Group No. 3 is individually labeled as stated, however, as stock is constantly changing, it is impractical to maintain lists which would also increase the cost. By our selecting stock, we can offer these substantially lower in price than would otherwise be possible, and pass this savings on to you—the customer.

GROUP OFFERING OF FLOWERING SIZE CYMBIDIUM PLANTS

The following is another example of exceptional values from a large scale operation, such as ours. To those interested in flowering plants for cut flowers or resale, we have plants to fulfill each requirement. By our selecting the plants, we can make this value offer of 3 to 5 bulb plants all flowering size, that are segregated into the various price ranges. They represent top value. The many repeat orders assure our customers of complete satisfaction.

228—POT PLANTS OF GARDEN TYPES . . . assorted colors.....	3 plants $ 19.50
229— (part of these are unlabeled stock)	6 plants $ 35.00

248—	per 100 plants $2000.00

These propagations will include back bulb and strong growth to sturdy green bulb and growth plants. State your color preference.

This is a rare opportunity to acquire some really fine quality cut flower stock at an extremely low cost. These are back bulb propagations from our vast stock and include many fine varieties that ordinarily sell for from three to five times more than the average price listed here. By our selection of stock, this offer is made possible; and, because many plants grow and propagate rapidly, stock is now sufficient to make these available at this time. Every grower should avail himself of this offer. You are assured of high value with this fine stock.

Included in the above price groups are Cymbidiums, such as:

CYMBIDIUM SEEDLINGS

Sherman Orchid Gardens is one of the largest growers of fine Cymbidium seedlings in America and these healthy young plants, produced from the finest selected and proven parents are available in various sizes at most reasonable prices. If you have not received our latest descriptive seedling list, drop us a card and a copy will be mailed promptly. Mail orders will be filled with care and satisfaction, or you may make your own selections at the Nursery. There are no finer seedlings available.

CYPRIPEDIUMS

In addition to our large stock of Cymbidiums, we also specialize in Cypripediums. The beautiful Lady Slipper Orchids, so popular with discriminating flower growers and garden lovers who admire unusually fine things, hold an eminent position as a highly prized cut flower and corsage item. Cypripediums are accepted as being one of the easiest plants to grow. They are most versatile as to temperature, humidity and location. The plain green leaf types are grown under widely different conditions most satisfactorily. Here in Southern California they may be grown out of doors, under (cool) glass house as well as (warm) Cattleya house conditions and are a good subject in the home as well. We have grown the green leaf Cypripediums out of doors, under lath house conditions when the temperature dropped to 28° F. or lower without damages to the plants. Like Cymbidiums these fine orchids are exceptionally long lasting—it not being unusual for Cypripedium flowers to last 6 to 8 weeks or longer.

The cultural requirements of Cypripediums follow those of Cymbidiums except that they require more shade, such as that afforded African Violets. As they have no bulbs, they require somewhat oftener watering, and should not be allowed to become completely dry at the roots or for only short periods at most. The plain green leaf varieties are ideal subjects for the cool greenhouse, however, will do very well in the Cattleya house or wherever Cymbidiums can be grown. The mottled leaf or warm types require a higher minimum temperature which should be 58° F. or above, warm or Cattleya temperatures. Pot grown plants benefit by repotting approximately every 2 years. Potting and fertilizing as with Cymbidiums. The mottled leaf varieties also do well in the home.

Cypripediums can be grown as a house plant very successfully. When grown in the home, they must be placed in a very light position such as an east, south or west window. Place the pots in a saucer or dish so that when watered or fertilized the compost will soak thoroughly. If an excess of fluid stays in the dish over a day or two it is best to empty the remainder. Do not use water from a water softener. During the hottest part of the year give filtered sun if facing south or west (such as split bamboo affords). No collection should be without a few of these easily grown, long lasting orchids.

We present the following list of plants from our famous and outstanding group of Cypripediums which includes many of the best to be found anywhere, both as the Show and Stud plants. We also have many rare and unusual species and quite a wide selection of the “old time” primary and secondary hybrids—many Collectors items. Our Cypripedium plants have recently received many high awards from the Orchid Society of Southern California and the Cymbidium Society, and includes Gold, Silver and Bronze Awards. This along with the liberal praise given by all who have seen our plants is a source of much pleasure and satisfaction.

An excellent selection of inexpensive types are available for the commercial grower and also for the amateur or the beginner.

We invite your inquiry for specific varieties or types, other than those listed, either for exhibition or stud varieties. We will also be glad to suggest individual plants or groups in any requested price range.

VENUSTUM

HIRSUTISSIMUM

WHITE CYPRIPEDIUM

This chaste and lovely group deserves special mention, not only for the quality and beauty of the flowers with their range of varieties and generally robust constitution, but also the habit of flowering more than once a year.

We have long been noted for our large fine stock of white Cypripedium which has been acquired over the past years and although scarce in proportion to other types and colors are now made available to all. We take pleasure in offering the following outstanding and best known varieties.

Cat.		*Plant
No.		Size	Price
340—	ALBION F.C.C.-M.O.S. (Astarte x Niveum).....	2	$25.00
	Very lovely variety of this exquisite white hybrid. A fine round	3	37.00 flower with the faintest dusting of purplish dots on the sepals.

341—	ASTARTE (Insigne 'Sanderæ' x Psyche).....	2	20.00
	The entire flower is snowy white except for a minute powdering of rose on the dorsal centrally and on the pouch. The staminode has a spot of green with a flush of gold.	3	30.00
342—	ASTARTE	2	25.00
	The dorsal of this flower is snowy white with some tiny purple spotting on lower half as well as on the petals. Upon opening the flower has a soft green center area which matures to a creamy-white. Good variety on a tall stem.	3	37.00
343—	BOLTONII , F.C.C.-R.H.S. (Unknown)	2	20.00
	This beautiful and chaste flower has the appearance of being molded of wax. The entire flower is of the purest white with a very few tiny purple spots at base of dorsal. Multiple flowering on a tall stem.	3	30.00
344—	CHASTITY-FINEST B.A.-O.S.S.C. (Nell Gwynne x Astarte).....	2	65.00
	A very beautiful variety of this deservedly famous hybrid. The flowers are of exquisitely beautiful form with the very shapely petals and pouch of light creamy ivory. The rounded dorsal is pure white with an ivory base and there are a few tiny spots centrally on petals and base of dorsal.	3	95.00
345—	CRASTIA (Astarte x Mrs. Carl Holmes).....	2	30.00
	A fine variety, bearing flowers large and shapely for this family and on a long stem. The pouch is creamy-ivory; the white dorsal has a sparse dotting of rose-claret centrally, and the petals are faintly shaded and speckled rose. Golden staminode.	3	45.00
346—	F. C. PUDDLE , F.C.C.-R.H.S. (Actæus x Astarte).....	2	60.00
	A superb representative of the lovely albino family. Large for its class and shapely on a tall stem. Sepals and petals pure rich white with a few minute rose-mauve specks centrally. Pouch ivory; staminode has a golden center. This is considered to be the finest parent for the development of improved white cyp.	3	88.00
347—	F. C. PUDDLE 'SUPERBUM'	2	50.00
	A splendid var. of this famous white cyp. Large and beautiful flowers of excellent texture that in maturity develop to a glistening white. There are a few mauve spots centrally. Flowers born on long stem.	3	75.00
348—	GODEFROYÆ (Species-Java)	1	10.00
	A neat compact plant with mottled green foliage. The shapely flowers have a creamy-yellow or white ground covered with blotches, spots and reticulated markings of brown purple. Charming and unusual.	2	12.50

| 352— | ROSY DAWN | 2 | 40.00 |
| | Another grand variety. The white dorsal is lightly marked with small rose spotting. Fine petals and pouch blushed rose. A distinct form of a beautiful orchid. | 3 | 60.00 |
| 353— | ROSY DAWN A.M.-R.H.S..... | 2 | 50.00 |
| | An outstanding variety of this fine cross. The white dorsal has a small greenish area with small rosy spots radiating from the base, creamy white petals and pouch enhanced by heavy rose powdering and shading to make this variety one of the best. | | |

MOTTLED LEAF CYPRIPIEDIUM

Among this section will be found many of the choice 'warm' growing cyp. plus a number of scarce species. Most of the following flower more than once per year and as such are extremely worth while and valuable for the amateur and commercial grower alike. This plus the beauty of the flowers wide color range as well as the attractively marked foliage assures a place for these in every collection.

Cat. No.		*Plant Size	Price
354—	ALMA GEVAERT (Lawrenceanum Hyeantum x Maudiae)..... A fine free flowering albino cyp. A bold flat and squarish dorsal white with green veins. Petals green—upper portion, tips and lower half lighter and standing quite straight out. Pouch lighter green. Large flower.	3	$23.00
